Listen to the Bible while you are travelling, meditating, or preparing for worship, with Sunday Bible Readings 2010. This audio companion is based on An Australian Lectionary and uses the Contemporary English Version Bible. You receive every Sunday readings from Advent 2009 until the Last Sunday After Pentecost 2010, as well as special days like Good Friday and Christmas Day. PLUS you have full rights to play this during worship services.

About the Reader

Hugh Elphinstone is a broadcaster from Bendigo. His first experience of voice production was in the Choir of St Andrew's Cathedral, Sydney. After his voice deepened considerably, he worked in commercial radio as an announcer, including two years in the newsroom of Radio 2SM in Sydney. You will enjoy the clarity and warmth of his voice, honed through a career of voiceovers and media work.

Track Content

Every reading has an individual track number to help you find it quickly and easily. Look inside the case for the full listing of the 228 readings which include:

- Clear title listing for every set of Sunday readings
- The date for every set of readings
- The Old Testament reading
- The Psalm
- The New Testament reading
- The Gospel reading

Aside from the Christmas and Easter readings all tracks are backed by relaxing music.

Market/Readership
